v.

MICHAEL E. MANN,

Appellee.

BEFORE: Blackburne-Rigsby, Associate Judge and Nebeker and Steadman, Senior Judges.

ORDER

On consideration of this court's October 18, 2013 order directing appellants to show cause why their respective appeals should not be dismissed as having been taken from a non-appealable order that does not meet the requirements of the collateral order doctrine; appellants' joint response; American Civil Liberties Union of the Nation's Capital ("the ACLU") lodged amicus curiae response, the Reporters Committee for Freedom of the Press (and eighteen other media organizations) (collectively "Reporters") and the District of Columbia's motions for leave to file the lodged amicus curiae responses; the Reporters lodged supplement to its amicus curiae response; appellee's motion to file the lodged opposition and appellants' response thereto; and the notices of appeal, it is

Nos. 13-CV-1043 & 13-CV-1044

ORDERED, sua sponte, that the Clerk shall file the ACLU's lodged amicus curiae response as its response. It is FURTHER ORDERED that the Reporters and the District of Columbia's motions to file the lodged amicus curiae responses are granted and the Clerk shall file the amicus curiae responses and the Reporters supplement to its amicus curiae response. It is FURTHER ORDERED that appellee's motion to file the lodged opposition is granted and the Clerk shall file the opposition and appellants' response. It is FURTHER ORDERED that these appeals are hereby dismissed as moot because the trial court granted appellee's motion to file his lodged amended complaint and docketed the amended complaint and appellants then filed new special motions to dismiss, which remain pending. It is FURTHER ORDERED these dismissals are without prejudice to appellants filing new notices of appeal from orders denying a special motion to dismiss.
